Profile of a Graduate

The PWCS Vision is that every student will graduate on time with the knowledge, skills, and habits of mind necessary to create a thriving future for themselves and their community.

Key Concepts

Advanced Academics: Classes such as AP, IB, Cambridge, CTE, or Dual Enrollment where you earn weight in your GPA and have the potential to earn college credit. Search the college registrar's website for transfer credit standards.

Certification or Credential: A certificate is an official document that proves you've completed a course or achieved a particular skill. A credential is a broader term that refers to a qualification or achievement.

Financial Aid: Funds such as loans or grants that are provided to help pay tuition, fees, and other educational expenses.

Grade Point Average (GPA): Weighted GPA reflects the difficulty of the courses you take, giving extra points such as 5.0 representing A. Unweighted GPA, on the other hand, doesn't consider course difficulty and uses a simple 4.0 scale where an A equals 4.0.

What Does "Best-Fit" Mean for You?

There are a number of factors to consider when identifying a best-fit school. Consider the following aspects to build a foundation for a good college experience. Search college majors and take a deep dive into the major's academic advising resources.

Think About It

Consider all possibilities and research colleges and majors.

Use the SuperMatch College Search to favorite colleges for future research.

Programs of Study

- Explore Programs: Investigate majors and courses.
- Seek Advice: Talk to advisors and professionals.
- Required Courses: Review program course advising sheets.
- Consider Goals: Align with long-term career goals and required for your dream job.

Cost

Compare attendance costs, evaluate housing expenses, research area affordability, look into scholarships and grants, and consider additional costs like textbooks and activities. Utilize a Net Price Calculator.

Location

Consider proximity to home and family, climate and weather conditions, choosing between a city or rural setting, and the cost of living in the area.

Size

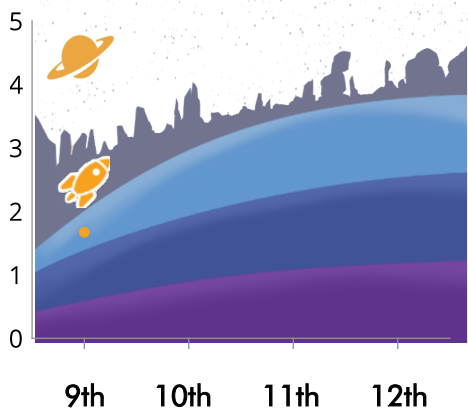

Smaller colleges offer personalized attention, while larger colleges have diverse activities. Understand which facilities and networking opportunities matter to you.

Student Life

Visit the campus and programs in person or online, explore the social scene and activities, and evaluate internships and job prospects.
